SUNDAY..... .....FEBRUARY 20, 1881.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Generals Colley and Wood have decided not to advance until the whole force is concentrated.

Five men while being tried for murder in Springfield, Tenn., Friday, were taken out of the Court room and hanged.

It is understood that the English Cabinet and the Boer government are discussing terms of peace, proposed by the latter.

The village of Breviers, in the department of Savoy, France, is completely destroyed by two avalanches. Fifteen persons were killed. Damage, 25,000 francs.

Two explosions of nitro-glycerine occurred Friday in the Canadian Pacific works at Ratportage. The first blew up two men and seriously injured them, and the second instantly killing three men and injuring five others.

Coran V. Kennedy, a young man not more than 25 years of age, the Postmaster at Fairview, Neb., has been arrested on a charge of robbing the registered letters. He confessed when arrested. He was brought to Omaha today and lodged in jail.

Almost Finished.

The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road is rapidly approaching completion to a junction with the Southern Pacific. Colonel Gordon, who has just returned to Kansas City from the southwestern terminus of the line, reports that there are but twenty-five miles to be built and that the connection of the two roads will be made by the 1st of March. The place where the two roads will be joined is called Florida Pass, in the Florida Mountains. The Southern Pacific is now past that point, working south for El Paso. Rincon, where the El Paso branch of the Santa Fe leaves the main California line, is 95 miles from El Paso, and the grading contracts are all let. It is expected the line will be in operation by the last of June or the first of July.

Boyles & Evans, the largest ranchers in the vicinity of Gridley, Cal., failed Thursday and made an assignment to James Trayner and Warren Green for the benefit of their creditors. Their liabilities are about $140,000, of which the sum of $95,000 is secured by mortgage on the land and grain. The remainder is unsecured, and consists mainly of accounts due local merchants and laborers. The assets are said to be meager and will not pay to exceed fifteen cents on the dollar. The recent high water is stated to be the cause.

Labor troubles in Lewis mining district, Lander county, are assuming a serious shape. A Miners' Union has been formed, which demands $4 per day for men who were previously receiving $3 50 in mines which are only 200 feet deep. Mob violence is threatened. In consequence of this the Salt-Grove mine has shut down, and the Betty O'Neal will probably do the same unless the men who are willing to work for $3 50 are unmolested.

Alas! for the manine woman of Maine who have been struggling so long for political recognition and political right to vote. The Senate has unanimously reported against conferring the privilege. In Missouri the woman have been allowed to appear before the Committee on the Constitution, and plead their cause in favor of being allowed to vote on public school questions. Will the Pikers be more liberal than the Maineacs.

Nebraska is wrestling with the question, "Can an Indian vote?" It seems that a Winnebago Indian by the name of John Elk put in a claim for the right of suffrage at the recent election, which was refused, and now Mr. Elk has put in a claim for $6,000 damages. The attorney for the Indian holds that under the Fourteenth amendment the Indian has a right to vote.

The first coins of the United States were struck with the portrait of Martha Washington, Mr. Spencer, who cut the first die, copying her features in his medalion. When General Washington saw the coins he was very wroth, and before any more were struck off the features of his wife were altered somewhat, and a cap placed on her head, this being the original of the present Goddess of Liberty.

The N. Y. Tribune interviewed a gentleman from the Transvaal, who says the reason of the success of the Boers is that they are the best marksmen in the world, from long practice. Their campaigns, too, have been conducted with great wisdom and skill.

Husbands Take Heart.

The Supreme Court of Georgia has been moved, in the recent consideration of an appealed case, to utter a bold and manly protest against wifely tyranny. This timely bugle-blast will sound very sweetly to many crushed husbands. Listen to it:

In taking a wife a man does not put himself under an overseer. A husband left free to govern his own family is the most useful of all concerned. A subjugated husband is a less pleasing and less energetic member of society than one who keeps his own place, yet knows how to temper authority with affection.

Now, then, ye husbands, arouse and rebel. Thrice is he armed who hath quarrel just. Who would be free himself must strike the blow. Demand the return of the old time latch-key. Smoke in the parlor, if you like. Down with the rolling-pin! Away with the broomstick! Come to the front and take control of your own houses. Rule wisely but firmly, and bless those wise Georgians who have spoken your deliverance from bondage.

Sun Spots.

Sun spots that can be seen by the unassisted eye are rare. Such a spot is now visable a little to the right of and below the center of the sun's disk. By protecting the eye with a piece of smoked glass, the spot may be seen like a black speck on the smooth, yellow surface. An opera glass magnifying three or four times makes the spot conspicuous. A telescope shows it to be composed of two huge spots, each many thousand miles in extent, and surrounded by a vast shadowy border, or penumbra. A notion may be formed of the tremendous forces that are at work upon the sun, when it is recollected that the earth could probably be dropped into either of the huge chasms that this spot contains. Yet such spots in the sun are often formed or closed up in a few days, or even a few hours.

The Way It Goes.

A Cleveland correspondent of the New York Herald says: "Temperance women in Ohio are now soliciting subscriptions to pay for a portrait of Mrs. Hayes, to be hung up in the White House, in the name of total abstinence, and as a stern and inflexible admonition against wine at State dinners." Yes, and the old whisky bloats, and rum sellers, will have to pay for the picture, and the temperance people will have the honor of it. It is too much like modern christianity. Sinners, infidels, gamblers, thieves, whisky sellers and drinkers, etc., in this country put up the money to build most of the churches, and then get sent to everlasting torment from the pulpit, and self-styled saints, to pay for it. That's the way it goes.

An Imitator of Girard.

Judge Charles E. Forbes, of Northampton, just dead, in a will, after leaving a half-brother and sister each $1,000 in annuities, gives in trust to the town of Northampton $220,000 and as much as the estate warrants for a public library, $50,000 for a building, and income of $20,000 for maintenance and an income of $50,000 for books, no minister of religion to have anything to do with the management of the institution. In case the town fails to accept the conditions the $220,000 goes to Harvard College to establish a professorship of advanced scientific research.

The Gold Hill News says: According to the report of the Regents of the State University at Elko, it costs nearly as much for manure and whitewash as it does for brains to run the institution. The figures showing the disposal of the $12,000 appropriation during the last two years, show only $4,857 (Principal's salary and a few maps, etc.) devoted to the real educational object of the institution. All the rest went for manure, mushroom cultivation, whitewash, etc. Ten thousand dollars more are asked for.

The Sprague divorce suit is set for trial at Kingston, Rhode Island, for the 21st instant, to-morrow. The political and social gossips of the East are all anxiety for the commencement of the proceedings. The trial will be conducted by an array of distinguished legal talent, and the proceedings will be spread before the world by a brilliant corps of newspaper reporters. Altogether it is likely to prove a deplorable scandal, hardly second to that of the Beecher case.

On Wednesday night the residence of Simon White near Los Angeles, took fire in the kitchen, and the flames spread to the adjoining pantry, where a loaded revolver was lying on the shelf. The heat exploded the cartridges in the revolver, and thus roused the family in time to save their lives, but the house and contents were totally destroyed.

The human brain is said to consist of four-fifths water. Careful analysis would show that in some men the other fifth is also water—poor, thin, stagnant water.

NEWS NOTES.

The increasing financial difficulties make the Sultan of Turkey more than ever desirous for peace.

The proposed constitutional amandment prohibiting the sale of intoxicants was defeated in the Senate of West Virginia last Wednesday.

A prohibitional amendment to the Michigan Constitution lacked one vote in the Senate of a two-thirds majority. It was reconsidered for amendment.

In Benton county, Arkansas, last Thursday, C. D. Gunter, brother of the Congressman, shot and killed L. B. Gamble in a quarrel over the Postoffice.

Lucca and Pisa, in the year 1000, began a war which lingered on for three centuries. They seem to have been uncomfortable neighbors and implacable foes.

Probably the most sumptuous monastery in existence is the Certosa of Pavia. It includes a splendid Gothic Church, and was founded in 1396 by Gian Galeazzo Visconti.

A Senator asked Delegate Cannon, the Mormon Representative, how many wives he had. "I have enough to keep me from interfering with the wives of other men," was Cannon's quick rejoinder.

Seven thousand men are at work on one section of the railroad from the City of Mexico to Solnca. The section will be inaugurated in May. The Central Railroad employed 1,038 laborers the last week in January.

There is much more hopeful feeling in Paris relative to the Greek question in consequence of Germany having consented to take the lead in negotiations at Constantinople. The Albanian League has offered the Porte 20,000 men in the event of war.

Some critics condemned the inaugural address of Governor Plaisted, of Maine, and then discovered that the greater part of that to which they objected had been plagarized from one of Daniel Webster's speeches. This hurts the critics, but doesn't help Plaisted.

R. O. Adams, the ex-Postmaster of Deadwood who was convicted of defrauding the Government of 14,000, and sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction for five years and to pay a fine of $5,000, has been pardoned by President Hayes and last Thursday was released.

As soon as the new rules announced by the Speaker of Parliament were thoroughly comprehended, a large section of Conservatives and Liberals came to the conclusion that so arbitrary a suppression of privileges could not be permitted, and strong efforts must be made to prevent such a course.

Congressman Cox's bill to suppress the cigar tenement house factory system in New York will be received with satisfaction by white cigar-makers on this coast, who are compelled to compete with the slaves of the tenement system East and the slaves of the coolie labor system here.

Kellogg, of Louisiana, will be the only Southern Republican Senator after the 4th of March. Among those who retire none will go home with a better reputation for good conduct than Bruce, the colored Senator from Mississippi. It would not be a calamity if Garfield called him to the Cabinet.

A New Orleans paper calls Vanderbilt and Gould paupers, on the ground that Ptolemy Philadelphus paid taxes on $1,000,000,000 worth of property. But in those old days they had not found out how to hide personal property. It is hard to tell how much a man is worth now from the amount of taxes he pays.

A Japanese audience, when they wish to express disapproval of a bad play, do not hiss or hoot or make any hideous or inconvenient noise; they merely rise and turn their backs to the stage, upon which the curtain immediately descends. But, then, the Japanese are heathens. Nothing more can be expected of them.

Sam Brannan has apparently succeeded in convincing the Mexican Government he can colonize that country. He telegraphs that he has obtained a grant or concession of 1,500 leagues in Sonora to found a colony of 1,000 families. If the terms are liberal, and include mineral rights, emigrants may be obtained; otherwise they will fight shy of Mexico.

Even the best experts cannot tell good imitation pearls from poor ones. Bernhardt examined the most expensive string of pearls ever brought to this country—60 pearls, not one of which was valued at less than 500—and remarked that she could not tell the string, worth $30,000, from an imitation set she used on the stage, and which was worth $25.

A prominent Comstocker, Matt Canavan, recently said of the Pintes: "Among these Indians no one has ever found a harlot, a coward or a thief." This is a pretty high compliment to pay to an "inferior race;" but, thinking over it, we cannot say that it is undeserved. We know the male Piutes are a fine brave, manly set of fellows. We will have to take Mr. Canavan's word for the muhalas.

What a Volcano Can Do.

Cotapaxi, in 1738, threw its fiery rockets three thousand feet above its crater, while in 1724 the blazing mass struggling for an outlet, roared so that its awful voice was heard at a distance of more than six hundred miles. In 1797 the crater of Tunguragua, one of the great peaks of the Andes, flung out torrents of mud, which dammed up the rivers opened new lakes, and in valleys one thousand feet wide, made deposits six hundred feet deep. The stream from Vesuvius, which, in 1873, passed through Torre del Greco, contained 33,000,000 cubic feet of solid matter, and in 1793, when Torre del Greco was destroyed a second time the mass of lava amounted to 45,000,000 cubic feet.

In 1760 Ætna poured forth a flood which covered eighty-four square miles of surface. On this occasion the sand and scoria formed the Monte Rosini, near Nicholosa, a cone of two miles in circumference, and four hundred feet high. The stream thrown out by Ætna in 1810 was in motion at the rate of one yard per day for nine months after the eruption, and it is on record that the lava of the same mountain, after a terrible eruption, was not thoroughly cool and consolidated for ten years after the event.

In the eruption of Vesuvius, A. D. 79, the scoria and ashes vomited forth far exceeded the entire bulk of the mountain; while in 1660 Ætna disgorged more than twenty times its own mass. Vesuvius has sent its ashes as far as Constantinople, Syria and Egypt; it hurled stones eight pounds in weight to Pompeii, a distance of six miles; where similar masses were tossed up two thousand feet above the summit. Cotapaxi has projected a rock of one hundred cubic yards in volume, nine miles; and Sumbawa, in 1815, during the most terrible eruption on record, sent its ashes as far as Java, a distance of three hundred miles of surface, and, out of a population of twelve thousand souls, only twenty escaped.

How to Apply Water to a Fire.

An old fireman of the State of Maine gives the following wisdom to one of the papers of that State. Our hose boys would do well to bear this in mind, as it may prove of use to them: One gallon of water at the bottom of a fire will do more to quench it than ten gallons at the top. "Play low" is the true motto for the fireman. If the engine that reached the Summer street fire in Boston had burst into the warehouse and played into the goods elevator, where the fire broke out, it would probably have saved fifty millions of dollars. To play on the roof of a house on fire is to waste water; the roof was made to shed water; the rain does not put out a a kitchen fire, nor would a river flowing bodily on a roof put out a kitchen fire. Be sure to play low; get the water near the fire, and then you need not pour out a river. A few gallons at the bottom of a fire will rise in clouds of steam when the fire is rising, and will quench it. Even a heap of rubbish turns water like a partial roof. A gill of water thrown into the bottom of a grate, equals a quart thrown on top. For a similar reason, water on the windward side is more effective than on the leeward. I am speaking now of a moderate fire, where there are only two or three houses burning. The big blaze on the leeward looks fearful, but it cannot be affected by playing on that side. Throw your water in the bed of coals under the retort that is sucking them, and it will go out, that is to say, play at the bottom of the windward side of a fire, and you take the surest and speediest way to quench the whole leeward side, blazes included.

A Chinese Rip.

The Chinese Rip Van Winkle was a patriarch named Wang Chib. He was gathering firewood one day on the mountains of Ku Chow when he found a grotto where some old men were playing chess. As he watched them one of them gave him what looked like a date stone, telling him to put it in his mouth. No sooner had he tasted it than he ceased to feel hunger and thirst. By and by one of the players said: "It is long since you came here; you should go home now." Wang Chib went to take up his ax and found the handle mouldered into dust. Undismayed, however, he returned home, but found that centuries had passed since he went out woodcutting, and that no vestige of his relatives remained. He retreated to a cell in the mountains and, devoting himself to religious exercises, finally attained immortality.

Castle-building or day-dreaming is a favorite occupation of some minds. And let the cold, stern practicalist say what he may, it is an elevating and ennobling mental occupation. For, who does not in flights of fancy endeavor to soar to a higher plane than that now occupied? Never does the castle-builder indulge in debasing day-dreams, but ever looks upward and forward to bright and happier things.

Some of the Knights of Pythias complain of their return accommodations over the Central Pacific. They were run as an emigrant train, had no sleepers and were frequently passed by other passenger trains on the road. The accommodations were insufficient, too. When they went down they had eight cars and two sleepers, and on their return they had but six cars, and many could not even get a seat at all. This made a sort of sorry wind-up for such a glorious time as they otherwise enjoyed.

An engine driven by compressed air to supersede engines driven by steam is announced in England as invented by a Colonel Beaumont. Report says that it has been tried by a government commission and pronounced a success. The proprietors of London tramways and underground railroads propose to substitute it for steam power now in use, and great things are expected of it

David Davis, of Illinois, has definitely determined, it is reported, to stand with the Democrats in the United States Senate. The Boston Traveller says if it were possible, the Democrats, in view of their decreasing majority, would doubtless divide the bulky Senator into two or three, as they propose to do with the State of Texas, when they get a chance.

A woman will work a month to fabricate a delicate protection for a chair, and then, when it is in place, an edict is promptly issued forbidding any man sitting in that chair, through fear of spoiling the tidy. It's the best chair protector that could possibly be desired.

When a Virginia City gent proposes to a Gold Hill girl he says: "Let's consolidate." In due course of time she is liable to say: "Let's disincorporate;" or both may say: "Let's amend our incorporation and take a fresh start."

A single pair of German carp will in one season produce 20,000 young. An Atlanta writer says that the establishment of fifty carp ponds will do more good in Georgia than the election of Hancock would have done.

A petition is in circulation in Clackamas county, Or., praying for the relief of J. M. Bacon, the Postmaster whose place was broken into recently and about $3,000 of Government money stolen.

Near Canyonville, Douglas county, Or., a twelve-year-old lad was hunting and met two panthers. He wounded one and was attacked by the animal. Help arrived and both panthers were killed.

The body of John W. Dwinelle, brother to Judge Dwinelle, who was drowned at Benicia, Jan. 28th, has been recovered and fully identified.

Strawberry growers in Santa Clara county say that the prospects for early and large crops are very favorable.

SUNDAY.....FEBRUARY 20, 1881.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Mrs. Amos Alt will start a dancing school in Truckee next week.

E. D. Kelley, of the Winnemucca Silver State, is in town.

All the lumber for the new mill is now on the ground, and the machinery will go up Monday.

There will be services at Trinity Church to-day as usual, Rev. W. R. Jenvey officiating.

Senator Hammond, who has been in the East for the past three weeks, passed through to Carson this morning.

For some cause best known to dealers, the price of wood, in Reno, has been raised from $5 50 to $6 per cord, in the yard.

We are having very fine Spring weather, only a little chilly. Reno is the boss spot on earth for fine skies, health and beauty.

Constable Ruse, of Winnemucca, went through to Carson yesterday morning with A. M. Fagg, who is booked for the State Prison for one year, for grand larceny.

Remember the masquerade ball to be held in Wadsworth to-morrow night, for the benefit of the Wadsworth school. We understand a number of persons from Reno intend to patronize it.

Some of the young hoodlums at the Reform Club Hall last evening were not a little astonished when they were taken by the ear and led down stairs on to the sidewalk and told to "git." And they got.

Next Tuesday, Feb. 22d, is the anniversary of the appearance, on this mundane sphere, of the "Father of his Country." It is a legal holiday, on which there can be transacted no Judicial business.

There will be divine service at the M. E. Church to-day at 11 A. M. and 7:15 P. M., Rev. C. McKelvey officiating. Subject for the morning, "Moody, His Meeting, and Methods." Song service at a quarter before 7 o'clock. The Moody and Sankey books will be used; seats free, all are invited. Sabbath School at 1:30 P. M.

District Court.

Douglas vs. Wooten—defendant's motion to dismiss the plaintiff's appeal denied.

Annie West vs. Laura C. Steiger et al—Continued until Monday next.

The jury was excused until Monday next at 10 o'clock A. M.

Reno Dramatic Club.

When the announcement was made yesterday morning by the Dramatic Club, that they would play "Above the Clouds" in the Theater on Friday evening, no appointment had been made for that evening. Through a mistake the Theater had not been engaged. On account of the entertainment since advertised, "Above the Clouds" will be put on the stage on Thursday evening instead of Friday. The Club are in constant rehearsal and the play will be well set.

The Race Yesterday.

The race at the track yesterday afternoon, for a $100 sweepstake purse, proved to be quite an exciting affair. There were four entries; Bald Hornet, by L. W. Lee; Billy Lee, by Smith Hill; Graham, by T. H. Da Vall; and Bradley's Black Charley. They all came to the scratch about 8 o'clock, P. M., and got a good square send off. The first heat was won by Bald Hornet, quite easily, Bradley's black, second. The other two were thought to have been distanced, the flag having been dropped on them before they passed the distance pole; but the judges decided them in the race. The second heat and race was won by Bald Hornet, distancing the field. Billy Lee became fractious and kicked his sulky into smithereens before he reached the quarter pole. On the back stretch, Graham became disgusted, threw his driver out of the sulky, then wheeled about and ran around the track the contrary way, passed the judges, turned under full sail and finally brought up against the fence, smashing the sulky to pieces. The owner of Bald Hornet carried off the sack, and the crowd dispersed in good order. There was no disturbance of any kind, and the whole affair passed off pleasantly. Mr. Bradley was dissatisfied with the final result of the race, and particularly with the decision of the judges declaring his horse distanced in the last heat. Mr. Lee, the winner in the race has offered to trot the race over with him for the second money with the understanding that Bald Hornet shall distance Bradley's Charley, or Bradley shall take the money. The proposition has been accepted by Bradley, and the race will come off next Wednesday, if the day is pleasant.

The Statistician.

We are under obligations to Mr. J. J. Cooper, the general agent of Nevada, for a copy of the Annual Statistician for 1880-1881. This is the fifth edition of Mr. McCarty's useful and reliable work. Its value as a book of reference is widely known. The information it contains is geographical, chronological, biographical, financial, mathematical, historical, and scientific; certainly a wide enough range to cover matters of interest to every one who may open it. School teachers, librarians, officials, and students will find it of continuous service to them, and every person who is called upon to use a book of reference will be quick to discover the great value of this one. It is a handsomely bound book of 624 pages, and contains an immense quantity of information. It gives the altitude and location of every principal mountain; length and source of every principal river; area and location of every principal gulf, lake, ocean and sea. Every country in the world is noted; every island in the sea; how and by whom each country and each portion is governed; the genealogy of foreign rulers, dating back in the case of China to 2,852 B. C., and other countries of the old world to 559 and 753 B. C.; and much other valuable information that is impossible for us at this time to mention.

The Asylum Bill.

Powning's Asylum Bill which was introduced in the Assembly Friday was passed yesterday, in that body by a vote of 26 to 12. Mr. Coffin who voted against the bill changed his vote to the majority in order to give notice of a motion to reconsider, thus making the vote stand in the records as being passed by 27 to 11. The bill is the same as the one recently defeated, with a few unimportant changes. The old bill allowed Clark to keep the patients a year, or until the Asylum building was completed. This new bill extends the time of erecting the building to sixteen months, thus giving Clark about four extra months to hold the insane under his contract.

Congregational Church, G. F. G. Morgan pastor. Services morning and evening. Sunday school directly after morning service.

A true time piece, a good gold case, an American movement, a perfect watch, really worth $85, price $36, warranted for five years, at Uncle Harris', 221 Kearney street, between Bush and Sutter.

The minister asked the Sunday school: "With what remarkable weapon did Sampson at one time slay a number of Philistines?" For a while there was no answer, and the minister, to assist the children, began tapping his jaw with his finger, at the same time saying: "What is this—this?" Quick as thought a little fellow quite innocently replied: "The jaw-bone of an ass, sir."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

To its Natural Vitality and color.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary, predisposition all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR by long and extensive use, has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy pliable and strengthened, lost hair regrows with lively expression, falling hair is checked and stablished, thin hair thickens, and faded or gray hairs resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the VIGOR is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume and valued for the soft lustre and richness it tone it imparts.
